Day of Service on Martin Luther King Jr. Day

Monday, January 18 is Martin Luther King Jr. Day and Morris County 4-H will be celebrating Dr. King’s legacy by baking bread to donate to local food pantries. Teen Council will be taking the lead but all clubs are invited to attend.

This is the first year 4-H has nationally taken the initiative to make MLK Day a service day for clubs that would like to participate.

Nationally 4-H communities across the country will be getting involved with this day of service. They may decide to set up a food drive or take up another initiative to help in solving social problems.

“Community service has always been a central part of the 4-H program. It is important that young people learn early on how to be contributing citizens of their community. This hands-on project will help 4-H members know that they can make a difference,” said Rachel Lyons, Morris County 4-H Agent. Please contact the office if your club would like to be involved.

Sign Up for a Public Presentations Workshop

Public Presentations will take place on Friday, April 16, 2010 at the County College of Morris. A special Public Presentations 101 Workshop will be held at the 4-H Office Wednesday, February 24, from 7-8:30 p.m. Please call the office to register @ (973) 285-8300 x3. The workshop will help 4-H members to prepare for the upcoming event. You will learn how to give a demonstration, an illustrated talk, performance or formal speech. All 4-H members including Cloverbud members are encouraged to attend. Many tips and techniques will be discussed and practiced in order to help all 4-Hers to do their best on public presentations night. We hope to see you all there!
Dear 4-H Families,

Happy New Year! 2010 promises to be full of exciting new activities and events, starting with the National 4-H Day of Service on January 18. We hope you can join us for a county wide service activity. In February the first State Dog Bowl will be held in Burlington County. Members of both Seeing Eye and Dog Care and Training are invited to participate. Sciencesational Day will be held at the end of March this year and youth of all ages can participate in different ways. Contact the office to find out more about all of these programs.

As always, the success of our programs is due to the dedication of our volunteers, who willingly share their time and knowledge to making “the best better”. We thank you for all for what you have done for Morris County 4-H in 2009 and we look forward to a great 2010.

“4-Her of the Year”
Matt Elam

On November 20, 2009 at the annual Morris County 4-H Awards Night Dinner, Teen Council club member, Matt Elam, was named the new “4-Her of the Year.” Matt was recognized as an outstanding member of 4-H who has shown deep involvement and commitment to the 4-H program through local club, county, state, and national activities as well as demonstrating leadership and service through 4-H involvement. Matt joined 4-H somewhat accidentally when his cousin, tricked him into going to his first 4-H Teen Council meeting his freshman year of high school. It didn’t take him long to get hooked on 4-H. Since that day he has been actively involved in 4-H on the club, county, state and national level. He has served on the Executive Team of both Teen Council and Be The Change for the past two years. He was instrumental in planning the first and second North Jersey 4-H Teen Conferences. He represented Morris County at Citizenship Washington Focus in DC this past summer and this fall he represented our county at National 4-H Congress in Atlanta, Georgia. Matt continues to be an integral part of 4-H, making the best better!

Matt shares a moment at Awards Night with his proud mother, Judi Elam

Congratulations
Matt!

A wonderful time was had by all who caroled at this year’s Holiday Sing at Morris View Nursing Home on December 12, 2009. A large group of 68 participants, representing nine clubs, along with many Seeing Eye puppies and family pets divided into two groups and visited each unit of the nursing home. Led by our song leaders Alix Zudick, Kate Dodge, Alysha Zarzycki, Laura Graham, Amanda Ward and Matt Elam the residents were treated to a variety of holiday songs. During the visit holiday cards were given out to all of the residents and special time was given to all who wanted to pet the dogs. At the end we all got a chance to sample delicious cookies and drink some punch. Morris View thanked us very much for our visit.

Puppy Tails

Puppy Tails now has its own webpage at www.puppytails.itgo.com. Thank you Kristen Smith for gathering all the information and for creating this wonderful webpage for our club! Make sure to check it out. Club members don’t forget to add your pup’s information and picture if you haven’t already.

Lowes in Hackettstown sponsored Hackettstown Community Day, Saturday October 3rd. Puppy Tails members and their pups were there representing TSE. The sun came out to make for a beautiful day and everyone was on their best behavior.

Our pups represented TSE at the Morristown Fall Festival, on Saturday October 4th. Another gorgeous day brought everyone out. The pups were on display and acting their best. Everyone enjoyed stopping by the TSE tent to pet the pups and find out about their wonderful program.

The annual Stony Hill Farm Pumpkin Picking Event was held on October 13th. The Four-footed Leaders and Rutgers puppy clubs also attended.

Puppy News: Cara Grassano and Vincent walked 3 ½ miles in the Kaleidoscope of Hope Foundation’s 10th Annual Walkathon 2009 at Loantaka Brook Reservation. The walkathon raised money for ovarian cancer research and increased awareness of the symptoms of this silent dis-ease. Way to go Cara and Vincent!!

Jade (me, Robert Tagliaferro) was invited to Long Valley Middle School’s 7th Grade Service and Community classes. We talked about the TSE/4H Puppy Raising Program. My school also raises Pennies for Puppies every year and last year raised almost $2,900 to donate to TSE.

Trump (Karen Miicke) and my mom, Sue Tagliaferro, went to the Sussex Avenue Elementary School in Morris-town to assist Jill Jaycox, our Puppy Coordinator, in a presentation for their “Pennies for Puppies” program. Trump and the other pups were on their best behavior and the children all enjoyed their visit.

New arrivals: Van Gogh (Female, GR) to be raised by Shayna O’Connell, Conan (male, GR) to be raised by Samantha Zarzycki, Bailey (male, GS) to be raised by Bonnie DiCola. Pups returning to TSE: Neil (male, GR) raised by the Fritts family, Vincent (male, Golden/Lab mix) raised by the Grassano family, Joyce (female, Golden/Lab mix) raised by the Spadola family, Gerold (male GS) raised by the Fathers family, Donna (female, GS) raised by the Stephani family and Ginger (female, GS) raised by Eleanor Abramson.

Puppy Walks: Caitlyn Brunner saw Haiku, the Dicola family saw Simba, and the Kabis family saw Shannon take their town walks.

Puppy Placements: Brook (GS) raised by the Goral family was placed with a woman from West Virginia. Brook is her 2nd Guide Dog.

Jade (GR) returned to us (Tagliaferros) after a month at TSE and we happily welcomed her back to officially become a member of our family. Jade is currently in training to become a therapy dog.

Best 4-H Stories

My 4-H Story
Reilly McWilliams
Winner Grade 4-8

Like, in the past two years, I have learned a lot. I learned the importance of genetics, how keeping your guinea pig extra healthy can result in better awards at shows, and how participating with my club more will lead to good results.

Genetics are the reason your animal looks the way they do. I learned about my pets and if they are recessive or dominate. I also learned how to tell what they are by their parents and grandparents. Genetics make up you and you get those genetics from your parents and grandparents.

To get awards like Best in Show and Best of Breed, your guinea pig or pet needs to always be healthy and well groomed. Since there are many kinds of cavies, there are many ways to groom them. I have an American Cavy so they have short hair. I need to give him food and water daily, clip their nails (as needed), and bathe them (as needed).

I haven't quite learned how to clip their nails yet but I am going to soon. Keeping your pet will help you at shows by getting awards that they deserve. I have gotten Best in Show once with my Coronet before he died in September 2008. My mixed cavy has gotten Best of Bred a few times and Excellent ribbons many times.

I learned more responsibility by participating in my club. This was done by spending more hours in my club tent by taking my pet's into the petting area. Having more responsibility is hard work, but it is also a good thing because it means I am ready for harder tasks and lessons.

4-H this year has surprised me. It was more work but in a good way. I was shocked how much I learned and can't wait to find out what I will continue to learn in years ahead.

The King and I
Elena Halis
Winner Grade 9-13

On June 24, 2008 my third Seeing Eye puppy was brought to my home. With his familiar name, Elvis, was to be the dog to change my outlook. Every day Elvis and I would clean up all his toys together. I had to mop up the water he splashed out his water bowl, and quite frequently I had to wipe the drool from his mouth and anywhere else he had gotten it. It didn't take long to see that Elvis drooled a lot! Despite his slobberly kisses, there was something special about Elvis.

While visiting the airport with our club, a woman approached our group and began to pet another dog near us. Elvis decided he wanted to become her friend. He nosed his way into her personal space and insisted she pet and fuss over him. He was so lovable, she couldn't resist. Later that day as we were leaving the airport, we heard yelling from across the crowded atrium. "Elvis! There's Elvis! Bye Elvis!" It was the woman Elvis had befriended earlier. My mother and I both looked at Elvis and started laughing.

There is something about Elvis that seems to attract people to him. Maybe it's his famous name, his friendly golden retriever appearance, or his goofy fun outlook on life. Elvis has the confidence to approach most any person in any setting. He is friendly and all are created equal in his eyes. He helps to bring out the best in others. In an unfamiliar situation, it takes me a few minutes to warm up to the setting. However, Elvis, my social butterfly, forced me to get over my slight shy-ness and create a conversation with whomever he had just become best friends.

He approached any one of every shape, size or color and worked his magic and charm on them to make them fall in love with him.

Elvis had the ability to allow a person to feel immediately comfortable as his friend always. He didn't manipulate. He just showed honesty and joy in meeting and greeting. One time I brought Elvis to see a bunch of girls to whom I teach cheerleading. Everyone fawned over the little fluff ball including the quiet girl that wouldn't talk to anyone on the team. After my mother took Elvis home, everyone, including the quiet little girl, was talking about how cute he was.

I know all puppies are cute. But, there was just something about Elvis that took him beyond cute. He approached and was approachable. He was comfortable. He was honest. When Elvis decided to make a new friend, that meant I made a new friend too. My family and I even have a joke about how you need to be an "Elvis" in life. When I'm nervous about going to a new place with new people, my mom reminds me that I need to act more like Elvis. Be friendly and nice to everyone. No one doesn't want to make friends.
