This project record book has been created specifically for members enrolled in the 4-H Rabbit, Cavy, and Small Animal projects. Keeping a record book is an important part of the project. It will help you set goals for the project year, record your accomplishments and help guide your efforts to keep important records on your animal(s).

What is a 4-H project?

A project is a subject or topic that you learn about in 4-H. More important, a project is something you do or make, which results from knowledge and skills you learned in the project. In this case, your project is a rabbit, cavy, or other small animal. You learn about your project from attending club meetings and educational workshops, and working with adult leaders and other 4-H members. You can also learn from field trips and camps, by participating in shows and competitions, as well as through your family and self-study.

Why complete a record book?

A record book is not meant to be a chore. Instead, it is a way for you to learn. Here are some important reasons why 4-H expects you to complete a 4-H record book for your project.

Keeping a 4-H record book will help you ...

- Learn how to organize yourself
- Learn how to set reasonable goals for yourself
- Appreciate what you've learned this year from the goals you reached
- Recognize what things you learned in your 4-H project this year and compare your progress and successes from year to year
- Explain what you've learned
- Keep track of costs of your project
- Gather information needed to apply for awards and scholarships
- Complete applications and resumes for jobs and college
- Meet requirements to participate in some county, state, or national 4-H events.

Guidelines for the 4-H Rabbit, Cavy or Small Animal Project Record Book

One record book can be completed for all your project animals. You start your record book at the beginning of the 4-H year and keep all your expenses and receipts during the year. It is important to keep your record book up-to-date monthly. Keep your book neat and complete.

Start your year by setting at least three goals for the year. These goals may include "Knowledge and Skills" or "Personal Development Activities." To expand your horizons, each year in the project, try to accomplish new skills, or skills you did not accomplish in previous year(s).

The record book has been three-hole punched so that it may be easily kept in a three-ring binder. With each new project year, add your new record book to the binder. It is recommended that you save your record books from previous years in your binder. That way, you can easily compare your progress and achievements throughout the years. It will also help you when you apply for awards, jobs, college, etc.

Member in good standing requirements

In general, all 4-H members are expected to meet the following standards each year. These are the minimum requirements. Your club may have additional requirements.

- Attend at least 70 percent of regular club meetings and/or activities.
- Complete a 4-H project, doing one's own work with minimal assistance from parents or others, including being responsible for the physical care and training of the animal(s) to the fullest extent.
- Give a club or county 4-H public presentation.
- Complete a project record book (like this one).

How this record book is organized

Besides this introduction, this record book is organized into four main sections:

- Starting Out - My goals for the 4-H year - page 5
- Along the Way - Keeping track of what I do - page 7
- Looking Back - What I learned this year - page 15
- Thinking Ahead - My goals for next year - page 19
- Appendix (including project goals) - page 20

Starting Out

My goals for the 4-H year

The beginning of the 4-H year is a good time to begin thinking about what you'd like to do or learn in 4-H during the upcoming months. List some of your goals for the year and what plan you have to accomplish your goals. Talk to your leader and parents to decide what goals are realistic to try and possible to finish this year.

During each year in the 4-H Rabbit, Cavy or Small Animal project, members should choose a minimum of three goals to pursue. Suggestions are listed in the Appendix on page 20. Write your choices below. Don't be afraid to challenge yourself! Of course, you may aim to reach more goals. For now, write your goals below and your plan for reaching each goal. If the items on the list have all been accomplished, develop some of your own. You may also choose special ones not listed. Be sure to get the needed signatures on the next page.

My goals for this year	What I need to do to reach this goal
Example: I will learn how to give a public presentation.	Attend county public presentation workshop. Have my leader and parents help me pick a topic that will be good for me. Practice my presentation.

Signatures for goal setting

I will work toward the above goals I have set for myself for the upcoming 4-H year to the best of my ability:

_____ (Member signature) _____ (Date)

I will support my son's/daughter's goals for the upcoming 4-H year:

_____ (Parent signature) _____ (Date)

I will help support this member's goals for the upcoming 4-H year:

_____ (4-H Leader signature) _____ (Date)

Taking Inventory

For the Rabbit, Cavy, and Small Animal projects, you will need to keep track of the animals you own. For each animal, list its name, breed/specie, tattoo number, date of purchase (if applicable), how the animal left your ownership and date, sex (abbreviations are OK, such as B for buck, D for doe) and value (this may be the purchase price or appraised value). If you have a large number of animals, you do not have to record each animal. However, you should record all animal that are "project animals" or that you enter in any show.

Animal Name	Breed/Specie	Tattoo Number	Date of Purchase	How animal left & date	Sex	Value
						Proj. Start	Proj. End
Example: Fluffy	Netherland Dwarf Rabbit	12345	1/5/02	sold 10/25/02	Doe	$60.00	$60.00
Total Value of Animals (Add all values of animals and put number in box at right)

Along the Way

Keeping track of what I do

For this section, it is best to write down what you have done shortly after completing it so you won't forget important events and activities. This section includes the following parts:

- What I did in this project this year
- Animal care & management
- Project finances
- Other clubs and projects

What I did in this project this year

The following page is where you can list what you did in this 4-H project. Don't forget to include these types of 4-H events and activities you might have done this year:

- Events participated in
- Leadership roles - such as offices held, committees led
- Shows & competitions (be sure to list identification of the rabbit entered, the class entered, and the number in the class)

- Awards or recognition earned

Name of event/activity	Date & Location	What I did	Level (Club, County, State, National)	Award or Recognition Earned?

Name of event/activity	Date & Location	What I did	Level (Club, County, State, National)	Award or Recognition Earned?

(Add other pages if necessary)

Animal Care & Management

Because your project is a living creature, it requires regular care and management. Here is the place to explain what you regularly do for or with your animal on a daily, weekly, monthly, and yearly basis. Be as specific as possible.

Do not forget to list the following:

- Feeding and watering practices
- Exercising
- Grooming (brushing, clipping nails, check health)
- Clean and disinfect cage, food/water containers
- Manure removal

What I do for/with my project animal . . .

Animal Breeding Record

Many project members choose to include breeding as part of their 4-H project. If you have chosen to breed your animals, use the chart below to keep track of the animals bred and their offspring.

Date Bred	# and Name of Doe (Female)	Buck (Male) Used	Date Kindled	Number of Offspring		Date Weaned
				Born Alive	Born Dead
Example : 3/8/00	KC8 (Penny)	KC12 (Dracula)	4/5/00	5	0	6/1/00

Project Finances

It is likely that you spent money on your 4-H project this year. This section will help you add up what it cost to complete your project.

(E) Expenses

This section is where you can keep track of what you purchased and the other materials, supplies, and equipment you purchased or used for your project and what it cost to use. Feel free to add more copies of these pages if necessary.

Expenses are divided into four categories (E 1, 2, 3, 4):

- Feed expenses (Remember the cost of feed = number of pounds of feed x price per pound. Also, when home-grown feeds are used, list feed cost at market value.)
- Equipment expenses (including hardware for repair of hutches or pens)
- Other expenses (such as animals purchased, breeding charges, shows, transportation)
- Health/Medical expenses (including veterinary and medicine)

(E1) Feed Expenses

Date	Description of expense (include quantities)	Cost ($)
11/1/99	Example: 50 lbs. feed	$8.50
E1 Total (Add up all expenses from above and put number in box at right)

(E2) Equipment expenses

Date	Description of expense (include quantities)	Cost ($)
1/2/00	Example: 1 Water Bottle	$5.25
E2 Total (Add up all expenses from above and put number in box at right)

(E3) Other Expenses (such as animals purchased, breeding charges, shows, transportation)

Date	Description of expense (include quantity)	Cost ($)
11/1/99	Example: 2 Netherland Dwarf rabbits (1 buck & 1 doe)	$25.00
E3 Total (Add up all expenses from above and put number in box at right)

(E4) Health/Medical expenses (including veterinarian & medicine)

Date	Description of expense	Cost ($)
12/1/99	Example: Health check at vet	$22.00
E4 Total (Add up all expenses from above and put number in box at right)

(I) Income

List any income received from your project this year. For instance, sales of any project-related items or cash prizes from contests or exhibitions. Income may also include live animals, dressed rabbits, and pelts sold. It is quite likely your project had no income. If so, enter “None” under description and “0” under “Total Income.” Remember, if products were consumed at home, charge what you would have paid for them in the local store, or what you would have received in cash if you sold the product.

Date	Description of income (Include quantities)	Income ($)
3/10/00	Example: Sold 1 Dutch Rabbit: Chocolate	$30.00
Total Income	(Add up all income from above and put number in box at right)

Total Project Cost or Profit

If your project earned more than it cost, then your project made a profit. But this is not likely so don't worry if your project did not make money! The important point to learn is that most activities have costs. Therefore, you must be careful to spend money wisely.

More likely, you spent more on your 4-H project than you earned from it. Therefore, “expenses” minus “income” is the total (or “net”) cost of your project.

Total Expenses (Includes value of equipment and project animals)
Total Feed Expenses (E1 page 11)	$
Total Equipment Expenses (E2 page 11)	$
Total Other Expenses (E3 page 12)	$
Total Health/Medical Expenses (E4 page 12)	$
Total Expenses (Add up all expenses and put number in box at right)	$

Net Project Cost (N)
Total Expenses (E , from bottom of page 13)	$
Total Income (I , from page 13)	$
Net Project Cost (Subtract Total Income from Total Expenses and put number in box at right)	$

Example:

Total Expenses (E)	minus Total Income (I)	= Net Project Cost (N)
Example: $150.00	$25.00	$125 (a project cost of $125)

4-H is proud of what 4-H members learn and sometimes likes to use excerpts (parts) of stories 4-H'ers write in 4-H publicity. If you do not want your information shared, please let us know by checking the boxes below:
